

FOOTGOLF:

Footgolf is a sport that consists of a fusion between soccer and golf, but it is more like the last one. The players must kick the ball to introduce it into the hole, in the least number of kicks possible.

How do you play?

Footgolf consists in kicking the soccer ball from the teeing ground to introduce it into the hole. The objective of foot golf – like traditional golf – is to advance the ball from the tee into the cup in the fewest number of kicks.

Size of the ball

We use an indoor soccer ball or a number 5 soccer ball. The size of the ball for the footgolf needs to have a circumference of 68-70cm and a weight of 410-450g.

Size of the hole

The size of the hole for the footgolf is 53 cm in diameter and has a depth of 40cm, and it is proportional to the size of the ball.

Distance of the hole

The distance is different from the original golf fields, a footgolf hole needs to be at least 50 meters from the tee off.

Game time

The round of footgolf lasts between 2-2½ hours, in comparison to the original golf game that lasts 4½ – 5 hours.

Footgolf scoring

STROKE PLAY

It means that the players finish every section of a prescribed round or rounds, and in connection with every single round they give back their scorecards, on which the gross values of all sections are indicated. In the competition, all players are playing against all other players. The player who plays the prescribed round or rounds with the lowest number of kicks becomes the winner.

Match Play: During a match, one of the parties' plays against the other party in a determined round. In match play, the game is played based on sections (holes). Apart from the situation where the rules regulate the case otherwise, the party who manages to get its ball into the hole with the lower number of kicks wins the section.

GOLF STYLE MATCH PLAY

The assessment of the status of the match is done with the following expressions: this much section advantage ("holes up"), or equal ("all square") or these many sections left ("to play"). The player is declared "dormie" if they are leading in the game with a number of sections equaling to the number of remaining sections.

Halved section: A section is halved if all parties get the ball into the hole with the same number of kicks.

Winner of the match: The match is regarded as won if one of the parties is leading with a higher number of sections than the number of remaining sections in the game. If there is a dead heat, the Committee may increase the prescribed round with such a number of sections which is necessary for winning the game.

Football-style' Match play

Instead of a section being awarded holes up, the win of each section is awarded a goal. In this situation, all holes are played resulting in an 18-hole score similar to the match in Football. This is known as 'Win a hole, score a Goal' match play.

Halved section: A halved section will result in no goals being awarded.

Winner of the match: The match is regarded as won if one of the parties, at the end of the 18 holes, has the higher number of won sections. A score will be recorded after all 18 holes are played. Example: Player A wins 7 holes, Player B wins 4 holes, match score 7-4.

Scorecard:

The Committee shall be obliged to provide a scorecard to every player, which contains the date and the name of the player and the scorer or—in case of team play—the names of the teams.
